- Written by a Highly Experienced Educator and Designer of Learning Materials for Stimulating Gifted Students' Creative Learning and Problem Solving Abilities.
- This is a unique book for use in homeschooling programs and in-home enrichment activities. Both parents and teachers will find it to be an effective addition to their education library for developing Independent and Self-Directed Creative Learning Skills.
- All exercises contain spaces for students to write their responses and discussions.
- Students will find the exercises to be challenging and interesting! (However, this is not a “fun and games” activity book, but is instead a rigorous and well thought-out program for igniting Creative and Divergent Thinking.)
- Students can work on each exercise at their own pace in a Self-Guided Manner with or without the assistance of a parent or teacher.
- The book includes a Self-Evaluation section which provides students with answers and solutions to many exercises.
